

Ambassador Marsha Coore Lobban was appointed Representative of Jamaica on the ICAO Council on 14 November 2023.

Prior to her appointment as High Commissioner-designate to Canada in September 2023, she served in several senior capacities in the Jamaican Foreign Service, including as Acting-Under Secretary for Diaspora, Protocol, and Consular Affairs, as well as for Bilateral Regional and Hemispheric Affairs, and as Director of the Caribbean and Americas Department.

Ambassador Coore Lobban has over 27 years of experience in the Jamaican Foreign Service and served at several overseas Diplomatic and Consular Missions, namely at the Jamaican Missions in Washington D.C, Miami and in Brazil where she spearheaded the opening of Jamaica's first Embassy in that country.

During her career, she has worked extensively on Jamaica's relations with various regional and hemispheric Bodies, including CARICOM, OAS, CELAC, and the ACS. She was also responsible for overseeing Jamaica's bilateral relations with numerous countries, particularly across the Caribbean region as well as Jamaica's relations, within the context of CARICOM, with several Third Countries, including Canada. She also has extensive experience in Diaspora engagement and consular Affairs.

She holds a Master of Science in International Relations and a Bachelor of Arts in History (Hons) from the University of the West Indies (Mona).

Ambassador Coore Lobban is the recipient of several citations and recognitions for her dedicated and outstanding service to Jamaica and the Diaspora, including a Proclamation from the Maryland State Senate; as well as Awards from the National Association of Jamaican and Supportive Organizations (NAJASO), the Jamaica National Association Inc., and the Jamaica Association of Maryland. She has also received the "Individual Excellence in Service" Award from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Foreign Trade.